

FIRST AIRPLANE PHOTOGRAPHS OF NIAGARA FALLS

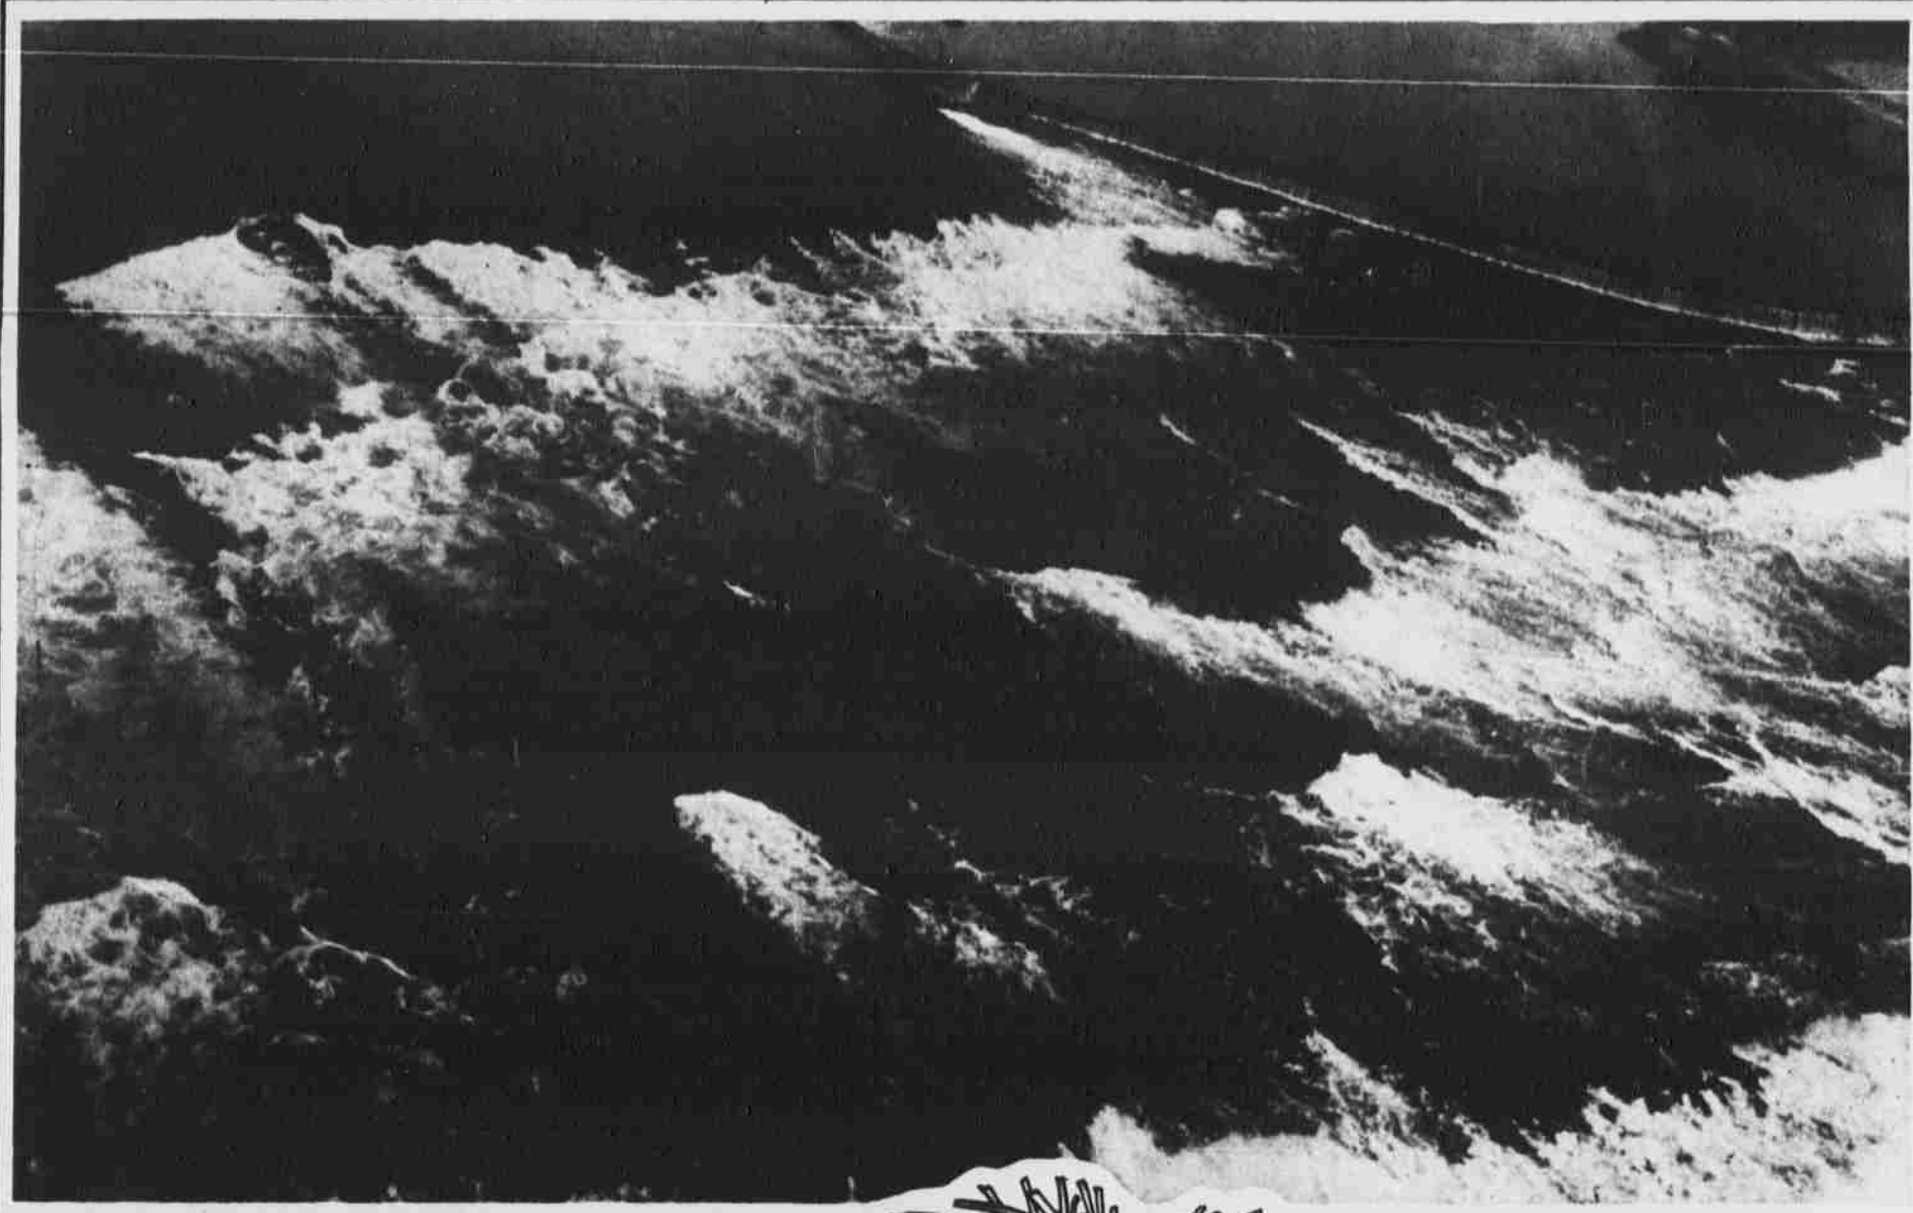

These unusual pictures of the great world wonder were taken from a Martin bombing plane at an elevation of 350 feet. Above—The Horseshoe Falls with the clouds of spray especially prominent in the upper right hand corner.

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

Below—Another unusual view of the rushing waters. Both American and Canadian shores are seen here with the general traffic bridge plainly visible.

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

At left—Wildly raging, the spray covered Rapids make an even more remarkable picture from the air than they do from the shore.

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

Below—Taking a hot bath in an ice encrusted outdoor pool. The White Sulphur Springs at Banff, Canada, a noted health resort.

Copyright, Kadel & Herbert.

